ACRL-IRIG Virtual Meeting
Tuesday, January 21, 2020
9 am Pacific Time / 10 am Mountain Time / 11 am Central Time / 12 noon Eastern Time

MINUTES

The ACRL-IRIG Midwinter Virtual meeting was set up as a Discussion Forum and was recorded: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yiiT4T0qEbc The four lightning talks presented are listed below, in order of presentation.

Introductions from the candidates for ACRL Vice-President/President Elect, followed by questions from meeting participants:
  Lynn Connaway, Director of User Research, OCLC, and Julie Garrison, Dean of Libraries, University of Western Michigan

Progress report on the recent work of the Task Force to update the Visual Literacy Competency Standards for Higher Education.
  Tiffany Saulter, Accessibility Consultant, Deque Systems, and Sara Schumacher, Architecture Image Librarian, Texas Tech University

Mirabile Visu: Art of the Aeneid
Mirabile Visu is a digital collection featuring 300 images of artistic depictions from Vergil's Aeneid, using metadata from cultural heritage institutions and compiled using Omeka and Tableau.
  Adriana Cásarez, Diversity Resident Librarian, University of Texas at Austin

The Truth Is Out There: Discerning Fake News Images
Dr. Farmer's Fake News Lib Guide provides links to visual literacy tools and sources to discern faked images.
  Dr. Lesley S. J. Farmer, Professor of Library Media, California State University Long Beach

Business meeting
-request for feedback about deaccessioning/digitizing a former Slide Library slide collection made by Jackie Fleming, Visual Literacy and Resources Librarian, Indiana University

-request for volunteers to update the ACRL-IRIG Digital Images Collections Guide: https://acrl.libguides.com/irig/digitalimagescollectionsguide

-next meeting: Convener has requested an in-person meeting for ACRL-IRIG at ALA Annual 2020 and will announce the date and time when that information is available