Stop judging a book by its cover!

Macromolecules, in turn, are also divided into four categories: carbohydrates (polysaccharides), proteins, fats, and nucleic acids.

Springer has nearly 200,000 books (eBooks)

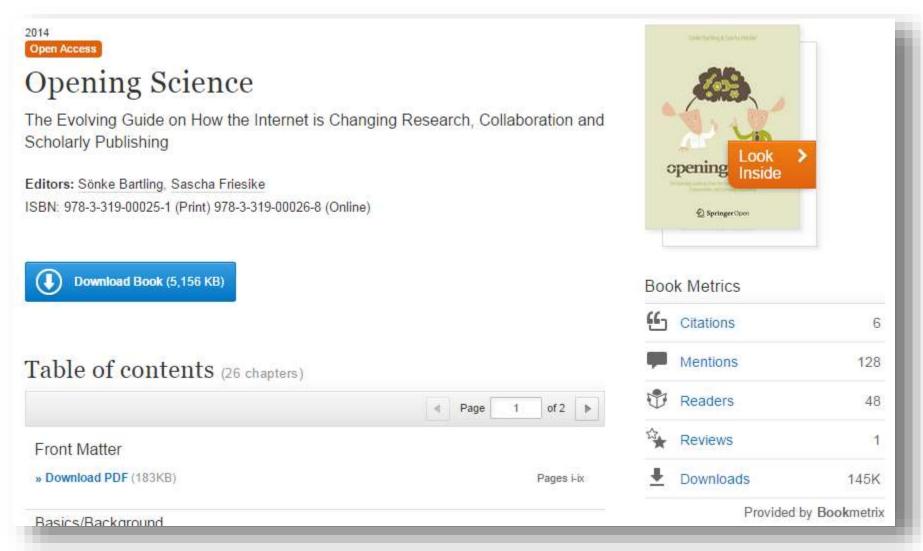

- Altmetric turned out to be the best development partner having:
  - Access to robust data sources
  - Matching data connections based on DOI
- No existing alternatives for book metrics

- But moreover.....
- We want to provide readers, authors, institutions and publishers, who are interested in the performance of a certain book, with information on citations, downloads, book reviews and altmetrics for comparison to help decision making.
