6.0 Board Engagement with Strategic Goal-area Committees (Pressley) #3.0, #3.1
6.1 Student Learning and Information Literacy (Elizabeth Galoozis, Nicole Brown) #6.0, #6.1
ACRL Student Learning and Information Literacy Committee Chair Elizabeth Galoozis and Vice-Chair Nicole E. Brown were welcomed to the meeting. The chairs began the discussion by asking the Board for input on how the committee can build a shared understanding of EDI and if the full committee could attend DeEtta Jones’ training that was held at SPOS.

ACRL has been working with the ALA Office for Diversity, Literacy, and Outreach Services (ODLOS) on potential training for ACRL members and leaders. ACRL is also considering other training options, such as webinars and an EDI RoadShow. The committee members may be interested in an opportunity for EDI training at the ACRL 2019 Conference in Cleveland. ACRL is working with ODLOS staff to develop some sessions that will be available to all conference attendees. The Board asked the chairs to check with their committee members to see if they might be interested in attending an EDI session at the ACRL 2019 Conference.

The chairs asked if the EDI handouts and tools provided at SPOS by DeEtta Jones could be shared with the full committee. It was agreed that ACRL would need to seek permission from DeEtta Jones before sharing materials beyond SPOS attendees.

The chairs next asked the Board how to best support EDI while still managing its current work plan items. The committee is undergoing a process to reexamine its current projects while also thinking of large-scale projects it might like to pursue in the future.

The chairs asked the Board if there are projects that it should prioritize and how many members should serve on the committee. The chairs asked if there might be another group that could manage the Framework sandbox. The Board advised that the committee should work with its Board and staff liaisons and to reach out to potential groups that might be interested in managing the Framework sandbox. The Board would want to consider the implications if responsibilities were moved to a Community of Practice.

6.2 Value of Academic Libraries (Holly Mercer) #5.0, #5.1
The Board welcomed Value of Academic Libraries Chair Holly Mercer. Mercer began the discussion by sharing some highlights including the awarding of library research impact grants and travel scholarships to support the research agenda, Academic Library Impact: Improving Practice and Essential Areas to Research. The committee is also planning a special issue of C&RL News, which will focus on the value of academic libraries.

Mercer shared the committee’s ideas to support its fourth objective, “Support libraries in articulating their role in advancing issues of equity, access, diversity, and inclusion in higher education.” Ideas the committee is considering include reviewing the process for awarding travel scholarships, adding EDI tags to the “Visualizing Academic Library Impact: The ACRL/OCLC Literature Analysis Dashboard,” and creating a repository of existing EDI projects and practices currently being undertaken by libraries. The Board supported the committee’s plans to support its fourth objective pertaining to EDI. If the committee would like further feedback or support from the Board, the chairs should work with their Board and staff liaisons to submit an action or discussion form in advance of the Board’s upcoming Spring Board Virtual Meeting.

6.3 New Roles and Changing Landscapes Committee (Jolie Ogg Graybill) #7.0, #7.1
New Roles and Changing Landscapes Committee (NRCL) Vice-Chair, Jolie Ogg Graybill, was welcomed to the meeting. She began the discussion by sharing that the committee has made progress on the updating the CUPA-HR for academic library position descriptions and expects to meet the June 2019 deadline.

The committee is working on the OER constellation and is planning an OER RoadShow. The committee is also working on a change course and is hoping to have an instructional designer selected by February 2019. The committee is considering additional constellations, but the committee will wait to explore this until the summer.

Graybill concluded her report by sharing that there is a subcommittee that is exploring potential projects for NRCL’s third objective, “Increase diversity, cultivate equity, and nurture inclusion in the academic library workforce.”

6.4 Research and Scholarly Environment (Yasmeen Shorish) #4.0, #4.1
Research and Scholarly Environment Committee (ReSEC) Chair Yasmeen Shorish was welcomed to the meeting. The committee has been focusing on the forthcoming scholarly communication research agenda and has been seeking feedback from the library community on a draft agenda. Shorish stated that the committee is seeking to better include the perspective of indigenous peoples in Canada after finding out from feedback that this was a viewpoint that was underrepresented.

ReSEC currently has an ALA Emerging Leader working with them on promotion of the forthcoming scholarly communication research agenda. The committee will be using VAL’s marketing model to promote the research agenda.
The Board asked for more information on the two OpenCon scholarships that ReSEC recently awarded. Shorish advised that the scholarship recipients will be appointed to ReSEC for a two-year term. During their time on the committee, they will write a C&RL column, serve on ReSEC’s scholarship subcommittee, and help with other projects of interest.

7.0 Officer Reports

7.1 President’s Report (Pressley) #1.1
Pressley highlighted that her President’s Program Committee is planning a series of blog posts to affirm ACRL’s core commitment to equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI). The President’s Program at Midwinter 2019, “Climbing the Stairs to Diversity and Inclusion Success” was led by Dr. Terryl Ross, Assistant Dean for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, University of Washington College of the Environment. Ross was also a presenter at the ACRL Leadership Council at Midwinter.

7.2 Vice-President’s Report (Munro) #1.2
Munro has been working closely with the ACRL Appointments Committee. There have been updates to the volunteer process, including the addition of optional demographics questions to the online form and inclusive language added to promotional materials.

Munro has also been working with Anne-Marie Deitering, Chair, 2020 President’s Program Planning Committee. Munro is planning to hold her 2020 President’s Program on an EDI topic, which is part of a three-year presidents’ program focus on EDI. The committee is looking into programming on indigenous peoples and colonization.

The Board discussed how ACRL staff is seeking assistance in developing a land acknowledgment for the ACRL 2019 Conference, which will take place in Cleveland, Ohio, April 10–13, 2019.

7.3 Past-President’s Report (Middleton) #1.3
Middleton reported that she has enjoyed reading about the great work of librarians while she served on the I Love My Librarian award committee. Middleton enjoyed meeting the recipients at the awards presentation in December in New York City.

7.4 Councilor’s Report (LaFleur) #1.4
LaFleur shared that the ALA Council I Meeting will be held tomorrow. Council is expecting resolutions in support of civil rights protections for people of diverse gender identities; to encourage libraries to eliminate monetary fines to help address issues pertaining to social inequity; and to include sustainability as a core value of librarianship.

Editor’s note: At its January 27, 2019 Council I Meeting, ALA Council approved a resolution adding sustainability as a core value of librarianship. At its January 28 Council II Meeting, ALA Council approved a resolution to encourage libraries to eliminate monetary fines because they can create a barrier to the provision of library and information services. At its January 29, 2019 Council III Meeting, ALA Council approved a resolution in support of civil rights protections for people of diverse gender identities.

7.5 Executive Director’s Plan for Excellence Activities Report (Davis) #1.5, #1.6
ACRL Executive Director Mary Ellen Davis thanked ACRL and Choice staff for their work advancing the ACRL Plan for Excellence through their support of programs and services for members and academic lirbrarains. Davis highlighted for the Board the new Core Commitment section of the PEAR that includes ACRL initiatives that are underway that support EDI.

8.0 ALA IT Consultants (Tobin Conley, Jim Gibson) #18.0

The Board welcomed ALA IT consultants from DelCor, Tobin Conley and Jim Gibson. Conley has worked for DelCor for almost eighteen years and has previously worked with EDUCAUSE to help them find a new digital learning platform. Gibson has been employed by DelCor for a couple of years and has previously worked for the American Hospital Association and Deloitte.

DelCor works exclusively with non-profit organizations and is currently reviewing ALA’s IT infrastructure, data management, digital presence, IT administration, and management of IT staff. In October 2019, DelCor completed a series of focus group interviews with ALA staff.

Starting February 5, 2019, Gibson will be serving as ALA’s Chief Information Officer, who will be working sixteen hours per week for one year. The consultants announced that Dan Hickey will serve as ALA’s new data asset management consultant. Hickey will be making an inventory of ALA digital content and looking for outdated, redundant, and trivial assets. The consultants commended the ALA Washington Office for paring down their website from 1,200 to 100 web pages. DelCor will be using the inventory to help develop a high-level action plan and timeline for ALA IT. DelCor will also be creating a longer-term strategic technology road map with alignment to the ALA budget. Gibson will be making a recommendation for a permanent CIO, who could be hired in January 2020, which is when the new ALA Executive Director could also be hired.

The Board asked the consultants how the ALA organizational remodel is affecting plans for ALA IT and if the complexity of the organization is being limited by IT. The consultants advised that IT should not be the driver for an organization’s structure and that IT should empower the needs of an organization.

The Board asked the consultants for its plans on how they will address the new ALA Connect issues. The consultants have found that there was no evidence of an ALA Connect implementation plan and that Higher Logic, the company providing the new ALA Connect platform, had not been held accountable.

ALA has recently hired another consultant to help streamline the many microsites within ALA Connect. The Board asked how DelCor will be working with this consultant. Gibson advised that he plans to connect with the consultant hired to streamline ALA Connect.

The Board asked the consultants for their thoughts on the ALA ITTS investment plan. The consultants will be reviewing the investment plan for ROI and will first focus on items that can be easily accomplished. The potential move of the ALA office may impact that timeline for the investment plan and could alter budgetary impact.

The Board asked how the IT consultants will be communicating to stakeholders and learned that ALA Communications & Marketing Office (CMO) Director Stephanie Hlywak will be working with the consultants on communication to ALA members and staff.

The consultants would like to meet with the ACRL Board again at the 2019 ALA Annual Conference in Washington, D.C. and asked the Board to prepare any IT questions addressing issues with ALA IT. The Board liaisons will ask their liaison groups for feedback on ALA IT.
10.0 AAAS Societies Consortium for Sexual Harassment in STEMM Membership (John Meier) #16.0, #16.1, #16.2
The Board welcomed ACRL Science and Technology Section (STS) Chair John Meier to the meeting. STS’s liaison to the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) is asking if ACRL would like to join AAAS’s Societies Consortium for Sexual Harassment in STEMM. The consortium is asking organizations to join by January 31, 2019 to be listed as inaugural members and is seeking regular members through February 28, 2019. The cost to join for ACRL would be $2,500 per year. If ACRL became a member of the consortium, it would take part in overseeing the development and production of policies and models. If ACRL did not join the consortium, the Board could submit a letter of support, which does not have a deadline for submission.

The Board had some concerns about the benefits to ACRL members, and asked Meier to articulate the direct benefits for ACRL members if ACRL joined the consortium. Meier asked if there are existing consortiums that ACRL already belongs to. ACRL is a current member of American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) and the Executive Director serves as the liaison to this organization.

The Board asked Meier if there is already a representative from ACRL who would be interested in serving on the AAAS’s Societies Consortium for Sexual Harassment in STEMM. Meier reported that a representative has not yet been selected.

The Board overall supported the proposed work for the Societies Consortium for Sexual Harassment in STEMM and felt that it is an important issue for those working in science and technology librarianship. The Board had interest in submitting a letter of support for the work but wanted to understand the direct benefits for ACRL members if ACRL were to join the consortium. The Board shared that it would welcome additional information, which it could discuss or take action on virtually either on ALA Connect or at its April 25, 2019 Spring Board Virtual Meeting.

9.0 Project Outcome (Jacobsma/Goek) #14.0
ACRL Program Manager Sara Goek was welcomed to the meeting. Goek reported that fifty-four institutions participated submitted almost 12,000 responses for field testing in 2018. Eric Ackermann, Sara Goek & Emily Plagman presented the results at the October 2018 Library Assessment Conference.

The ACRL Project Outcome Task Force is developing follow-up surveys, which should be finalized in the next few weeks. The task force is also working on a website, which will have a phased rollout. The toolkit is scheduled to launch April 12, 2019, during the ACRL 2019 Conference. The task force is planning a workshop at the 2019 ALA Annual Conference. Goek has submitted proposals for presentations and workshops at library conferences later this year to promote the survey tool. In addition to in-person promotion, the task force is also exploring virtual opportunities.

The Board thanked Goek for her leadership and shared that they are looking forward to the launch in April 2019.

The Board asked if there will be a Project Outcome RoadShow. Goek reported that there may be an opportunity to incorporate Project Outcome into the existing Assessment in Action RoadShow. A Project Outcome Roadshow could be possible after the one-year promotion following the April 2019 launch.
11.0 Adjourn to Executive Session (Pressley)
The Board adjourned to executive session to review recommendations and take action on the appointment of a C&RL editor.

13.0 Report out of Executive Session (Pressley)

Action: The Board approved the appointment of Wendi Arant Kaspar to a second three-year term as editor of College & Research Libraries, with a term of July 1, 2019, to June 30, 2022.

14.0 ALA Washington Office & ALA Committee on Legislation (Kathi Kromer, Jim Teliha) FYI-9

ALA Washington Office Associate Executive Director Kathi Kromer and ALA Committee on Legislation member James K. Teliha were welcomed to the meeting. They began their report on recent library advocacy by highlighting that Congress approved the reauthorization of IMLS for ten years and that the FY 2019 federal budget included more library funding than the previous fiscal year. The Marrakesh Treaty Implementation Act, which allows libraries to provide accessible materials to people globally with print disabilities, was signed into law on October 9, 2018. Kromer and Teliha thanked the Board and ACRL members for their advocacy work, especially for the Marrakesh Treaty, which had been pending in Congress for over ten years.

The ALA Washington Office continues to monitor other items interest for libraries, including the proposal to pull the registrar of copyright from the Library of Congress and FASTR. Kromer and Teliha shared that the legislative agenda for next year will focus on privacy and workforce development.

The ALA Washington Office has recently undergone some restructuring, with the Office of Library Advocacy becoming part of the ALA WO. The WO has worked to update its website and materials. The WO website has simplified from 1,200 to 100 pages. Teliha and Kromer shared with the Board some of the WO’s new print materials, which included a year-round advocacy checklist.

The Board shared an interest in working with more local politicians and inviting them to events, such as awards presentations. The Board also expressed an interest in state legislative days.

18.0 Opening remarks (Pressley)
The Board and guests were welcomed to the meeting.

20.0 ALA Board Liaison Update (Karen Downing) #11.0
The Board met with its ALA Board Liaison first, as Downing arrived early to the meeting.

ALA Executive Board member Karen Downing joined the meeting. She referred the Board to the leadership talking points that were sent prior to conference. There are currently six streams of change at ALA: Investment Budget/ALA Headquarters Building; Organizational Effectiveness and Governance Review; Membership and Communications Study; Internal Changes and IT Assessment; Aligning Advocacy – Stronger Chapter/State Relationships, and Reimagining ALA Midwinter.

Downing reminded the Board that the division-specific organizational effectiveness discussion will be held Monday, January 28, 2019, from 4:00–5:00 p.m. in the Sheraton Seattle, Cedar Meeting Room. The Steering Committee on Organizational Effectiveness (SCOE) will be sharing a PowerPoint with potential organizational models and will be collecting member feedback. Downing reminded the Board that SCOE will not be making recommendations at this session and will only be sharing possible new ALA membership will vote on any proposed changes to ALA’s organizational and governance structure. The Board was reminded that the agenda had been revised so that the Board meeting will end about 30 minutes early, so that Board members can attend the division-specific SCOE meeting.

There were several Future of Midwinter feedback forums held at Midwinter 2019. The Board asked if ALA Council would need to approve any changes to Midwinter. Downing advised that any changes would not need to be considered by ALA Council per the ALA Policy Manual Section 7.

Downing reported that ALA’s FY19 first-quarter financials are on-track with the “investment” budget. ALA is seeking to invest in three areas: advocacy, development, and ITTS.

The membership and communication study results are being reviewed and the full report should be available at the 2019 ALA Annual Conference.

There have already been some recommendations from the DelCor IT consultants regarding ALA IT. ALA is looking forward to more recommendations from the new ALA CIO Jim Gibson, with whom ALA contracted for sixteen-hours per week for one-year.

The ALA Executive Board voted to approve selling the two ALA Headquarters buildings in Chicago, so that the money made from a sale could be put in the ALA endowment and interest could be earned. There is currently an offer for the buildings and the ALA Board approved entering into negotiations for the property. It is hoped that a deal can be finalized this spring.

Downing reported that following Midwinter 2019, the search committee for the ALA Executive Director will be announced. The timeline calls for a new ALA Executive Director to be in place in time for the ALA 2020 Midwinter Meeting.

Downing also reported on some major legislative/advocacy wins, including the approval of IMLS funding through 2025.

21.2 ALA Treasurer Candidate Andrew Pace
The Board heard from 2019–22 ALA Treasurer candidate, Andrew Pace, who was allotted up to three minutes to address the Board.

19.0 Adoption of the Agenda (Pressley)
ACRL President Lauren Pressley referred to the updated agenda and new documents that were shared prior to the meeting, which included the addition of three new items: dues increase, revised Budget and Finance Committee charge, and update Diversity Committee name and structure.

Action: The Board approved the agenda as amended.

21.0 Budget and Finance Committee (Allen)
21.1 FY19 first-quarter report #8.0, #9.0, #9.1, #9.2 (Allen)
ACRL Budget and Finance Chair Carolyn Henderson Allen reported that first-quarter performance was on budget. There were some variances for both revenue and expenses due primarily to timing, which included payment of the final installment of the Project Information Literacy grant ($26,500) which had been budgeted for FY18.
The ACRL 2019 Conference revenue is on budget, with registration slightly ahead of ACRL 2017 and exhibits at 89% of budget. Thanks to the hard work of the ACRL Scholarships Committee, donations have exceeded budget by $73,000. Webinars are 20% below budget, but a robust schedule is planned for the spring, so they may end the year at budget. RoadShows also are performing below budget, which could indicate the importance of regularly adding new topics to the portfolio.

The ACRL long-term investment lost almost $200,000 in value due to the downturn in the market. The Budget & Finance Committee will continue to monitor LTI fluctuations throughout the year.

21.3 Brief report out of Joint Board/B&F meeting (Allen)
Due to there being no actions at the Joint Board and Budget & Finance Committee meeting, there was no report out.

21.4 Budget & Finance Charge #27.0 (Allen)
Allen shared that the Budget and Finance Committee discussed at Midwinter and supported a change to their charge to incorporate equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI).

Motion: ACRL Budget & Finance Committee Chair Carolyn Henderson Allen moved that the Board approves the revised Budget & Finance Committee charge as proposed:

- To submit annually a recommended budget for the ACRL division (including division publications, the CHOICE budget, the allocation of Long-Term Investment fund income) to the ACRL Board of Directors for action.
- To advise the ACRL Board of Directors on its allocation of Friends of ACRL contributions to strategic projects and programs, as well as to consult with the ACRL Board of Directors on fundraising goals and objectives.
- To counsel the ACRL Board of Directors on questions regarding all fiscal matters of the division or its publications, including dues levels and fundraising, especially as they relate to alignment with the strategic plan and the Core Commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion.

Action: The Board approved the revised Budget & Finance Committee charge as proposed:

- To submit annually a recommended budget for the ACRL division (including division publications, the CHOICE budget, the allocation of Long-Term Investment fund income) to the ACRL Board of Directors for action.
- To advise the ACRL Board of Directors on its allocation of Friends of ACRL contributions to strategic projects and programs, as well as to consult with the ACRL Board of Directors on fundraising goals and objectives.
- To counsel the ACRL Board of Directors on questions regarding all fiscal matters of the division or its publications, including dues levels and fundraising, especially as they relate to alignment with the strategic plan, Plan for Excellence, and its Core Commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion.

22.1 FY20 Dues Increase (Allen) #28.0
Between their meetings at Midwinter, the Board received a new action request from the ACRL Budget & Finance Committee for a dues increase. The Board discussed the dues increase and overall supported the following dues increases:

- Personal members: $68, an increase of $2
• Retired members: $44, an increase of $1

The Board agreed that it would like to postpone action on this request, so that it could give advance notice to ACRL membership by including on its agenda in advance of the 2019 Spring Board Meeting. ACRL staff will prepare the FY20 budget with the assumption of a dues increase but will revise the budget if the Board does not approve at the Spring Board Virtual Meeting.

The Board discussed the drop in membership after four years and asked if the ACRL Membership Committee could explore possible incentives to retain members who have been with the organization for four years. ACRL staff will generate possible incentives and will work with the Membership Committee.

21.5 FY20 Draft Budget #10.0, #10.1, #10.2 (Allen, Davis)

ACRL Executive Director Mary Ellen Davis reported that ACRL has been investing, since FY15, its resources to support member programs and services. The FY20 budget currently includes a negative net of -$960,393. If ACRL meets its FY19 and FY20 budget, the ending operating balance of $1,912,416, will bring ACRL much closer than it has been before to the ALA-mandated operating reserve amount of $1,052,784. Davis referred the Board to Doc 10.1, which includes a list of FY20 expenses that staff identified as areas of saving from the FY20 budget assumptions. The removal of these items would allow ACRL to still invest in a number of programs and services. Some expenses that were “trimmed” included less money for travel, catering, supplies, staff professional development, etc. and some items were removed from the budget.

ACRL Budget and Finance Chair Carolyn Henderson Allen stated that the Budget and Finance Committee reviewed the changes to the FY20 budget and discussed at Midwinter how much ACRL should continue to invest in programs and services, as it gets closer to the mandated operating reserve. Allen shared that the Budget and Finance Committee supports the changes identified by staff to the FY20 budget assumptions. The Budget and Finance Committee will continue to closely monitor FY19, including the performance of the ACRL 2019 Conference, and will revisit its discussion on how close to spend down to the mandated operating reserve at their meeting at the 2019 ALA Annual Conference.

The Board agreed with the recommendation of the Budget and Finance Committee to keep the proposed budget cuts for FY20 and looks forward to hearing more from the committee at Annual.

22.0 ALA Candidate Presentations

The Board heard from 2020-21 ALA President Candidate, Lance Werner, who was allotted up to three minutes to address the Board.

21.6 Friends Funds Disbursement #13.0 (Petrowski)

ACRL Associate Director Mary Jane Petrowski shared that there is still about a $20,000 balance from Friends donations made to the ACRL Advancement Fund. She referred the Board to the proposed disbursement recommendation included in Doc 13.0.

Motion: ACRL Director-at-large Beth McNeil moved that the ACRL Board of Directors approves the following disbursements from the ACRL Friends Advancement Fund in FY20:

• $7,000 to fund an additional ALA Spectrum Scholarship sponsorship.
• $12,876 to support additional free training opportunities for Project Outcome for Academic Libraries.

The Board supported the disbursement and agreed that it would round $12,876 to an even $13,000 to reflect the current Advancement Fund balance.

Amended Motion: ACRL Director-at-large Beth McNeil moved that the ACRL Board of Directors approves the following disbursements from the ACRL Friends Advancement Fund in FY20:

• $7,000 to fund an additional ALA Spectrum Scholarship sponsorship.
• $12,876 $13,000 to support additional free training opportunities for Project Outcome for Academic Libraries.

Action: The ACRL Board of Directors approved the following disbursements from the ACRL Friends Advancement Fund in FY20:

• $7,000 to fund an additional ALA Spectrum Scholarship sponsorship.
• $12,876 $13,000 to support additional free training opportunities for Project Outcome for Academic Libraries.

The Board learned that RBMS was successful at fundraising for its conference. ACRL Executive Director Mary Ellen Davis shared that, per ACRL Policy, RBMS can use up to half of its net proceeds from its RBMS Conference to fund RBMS scholarships. RBMS splits scholarship funding between its previous year’s net balance and the RBMS Leab long-term investment.

23.0 Councilor’s Update (LaFleur)

ACRL Division Councilor LeRoy LaFleur began his report on ALA Council activities. The Monday morning ALA Council Forum II was canceled, as it coincided with the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday Observance and Sunrise Celebration. During the Council I Meeting on January 27, 2019, candidates were announced for the ALA Executive Director Search Committee. Also during Council I, ALA Council approved a resolution on sustainability as a core value of librarianship.

During the January 28, 2019, Council II Meeting, ALA Council approved a resolution to encourage libraries to eliminate monetary fines as they were a form of social inequity. The Board asked how ALA Council will market this resolution. It was advised that if marketing is required for a resolution, often it will be included in the resolution. LaFleur reported that the resolution calling for libraries eliminate monetary fines as a form of social inequity did not include a marketing plan.

LaFleur reported that Council is expecting resolutions on civil rights protections for people of diverse gender identities and revisions to The Library Bill of Rights regarding meeting rooms.

The Board next discussed with LaFleur succession planning, as LaFleur’s term as Division Council will end with the 2019 ALA Annual Conference, and the Board wants to ensure that ACRL’s new councilor has an understanding of the role. The Board agreed that it would like to see proposed Council resolutions at its Friday Board Update meetings.

There is a Board working group that is reviewing participation at future Midwinter Meetings. The Group will review how to best include the ACRL Division Councilor.

Editor’s note: At the January 29, 2019 Council III Meeting, Chapter councilor Susan Jennings and Councilor-at-Large Peter Hepburn were elected to a one-year term on the ALA Executive Director Search Committee. Also during Council III, Council approved resolutions in support of civil rights protections for people of diverse gender identities and revisions to The Library Bill of Rights regarding meeting rooms.

22.0 ALA Candidate Presentations
ALA Presidential Candidate 2020-21, Julius C. Jefferson, Jr., was invited to the meeting, but was unable to attend.

24.0 Consent Agenda (Pressley)

Motion: ACRL Vice-President Karen Munro moved that the ACRL Board of Directors approves:

1. A name change for the Diversity Committee to the Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Committee.
2. A change in structure of the Committee to: A minimum of five members to include: a Chair, a Vice-Chair and a Past-Chair each serving one year terms. Additional appointments at the discretion of the Vice-President/President-Elect and Appointments Committee as needed to complete committee responsibilities.

The Board agreed that composition proposed should be updated to reflect current language in the ACRL Guide to Policies and Procedures.

Amended Motion: Munro moved that the ACRL Board of Directors approves:

1. A name change for the Diversity Committee to the Equity, Diversity and Inclusion Committee.
2. A change in structure of the Committee to: A minimum of five members to include: a one-year term as Chair, a one-year term as Vice-Chair and a one-year term as Past-Chair each serving one-year terms.
